Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

At the Y membership campaign meeting Wednesday night the score stood: Blues, 50 points; Reds 0. Immediately following the meeting the Blues turned in 120 points additional, making the total 170. It was reported, however, that the Reds had "something up their sleeves."

It was voted to extend the campaign in to next week and to add additional workers to both teams.

Both teams have rallies Friday at 7:30 p. m.

Lewis Meglone leads in the individual contest.

Plans are being made for opening the Gymnasium season at the Y at an early date.

Volley Ball will be started Wednesday, August 17.

Basket Ball and the regular Young Men's class will be started early in September. Plans are being made to have a City Basket Ball League.

The Boy's Gymnasium classes will open September 6.

There is much interest in the physical department activities and every sign indicates that the gymnasium and locker space at the Y will be crowded during the coming season.

The large lockers will be given to those joining during the campaign.

COAL DEALERS ISSUE WARNING.

A warning was issued Tuesday by coal dealers all over the State urging persons who can do so to lay in their coal supply at once. It is feared that there will be a shortage of fuel this winter, and it is practically assured that the price is cheaper now than it will be until next Spring.

HEAD OF PARIS SCHOOLS TO RETURN TO-MORROW

Prof. Lee Kirkpatrick, Superintendent of the Paris Public Schools, will return to-morrow, from Columbia University, New York, where he has been spending his summer vacation, studying and in taking special courses in educational advancement work. In a letter to THE NEWS Prof. Kirkpatrick says, in part:

"I have had an excellent summer in the University. As you will remember I received my M. A. here last year, and have finished much of my work toward my Ph. D. degree. I am looking forward to the best year in the Paris City Schools we have ever had. I appreciate very much the splendid co-operation I have always had from THE NEWS."

"Miss Lucille Harbold, the new teacher of Latin, is a graduate of Kentucky State University, and is in Columbia University now majoring in Latin, where she will soon get her M. A. in Latin. Miss Elizabeth Noland, the new teacher of English, is a graduate of Kentucky University, is also in Columbia University majoring in English, and will soon receive her M. A. in English. Prof. Dantzer, head of the Department of English of State University of 1912, and Prof. Jones, head of the department of Latin in the University of Kentucky, rate these two young women as among the best teachers the University has graduated in recent years. They have both made splendid records in Columbia, and by their excellent scholarship and personality will be a source of great strength to the Paris High School faculty."

"Announcement will be made next week of the new teacher of mathematics and French. These teachers will be chosen from a group of teachers who are college graduates, and who are now working in some of the large universities of America for their M. A. degree in their chosen field, and will be teachers of good experience. No teacher will be taken into the Paris High School faculty who has not done advanced graduate work in the work she is to teach. Miss Frances Butler, Miss Edith Stivers and Miss Reba Lockhart, teachers of scholarship and experience, will have charge of Science and History. We hope to make the Paris High School faculty one of the best in the State."

"I wish you would announce in THE NEWS that I want all students in Paris and Bourbon county who expect to enter the Freshman class in September to report at the High School on Monday, August 15, between 9:00 a. m. and 3:00 p. m., to register and classify."

"Sincerely,
"LEE KIRKPATRICK."

DELEGATES TO AMERICAN LEGION MEETING.

At a meeting of Bourbon Post, American Legion, Nathan Bayless and Rev. T. S. Smylie were selected as delegates and Collier Dawes and Finnel Galloway, alternates, to represent the Post at the State meeting of the Legion, to be held in Lexington, on September 1 and 2.

The business session will be held on the first day, and the second day will be devoted to sports and social events at Woodland Park, the weather permitting. The delegates will wear the regulation O. D. shirts instead of blouses. Lexington is making preparations for giving the Legion members and delegates a rousing reception.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION AND ITS LESSON

Now that the election is over we will miss the glad handshake of the candidates who have been so solicitous concerning our health, our wives and babies, our crops, in fact they have assured us that if elected our every wish would be granted. They have all been so nice and courteous that the only regret we, the voters, have, is that we did not have an office for each of them. They were a fine bunch of fellows and it was hard for many to decide for whom their vote would be cast.

The primary is over. There were differences, of course, but a majority vote always settles the matter, and if we would be Democratic, we say so let it be. In some of the races just closed we received our choice for the nomination, but in others we did not, but we bow to the will of the majority, and will contend for the full ticket until after the November election. We are assuming, of course, that all the Democratic nominees will be elected in November, because they will receive the united strength of the party, which will insure success of both the city and county tickets.

But after the nominees have been inducted into office they must not be remiss to their duty, they must toe the mark, they must earn their salaries, or they will hear from the people in words not spoken in a whisper. The successful ones will find themselves face to face with the real problems incident to the duties of their office. They will find some of the things they had imagined they would do are beyond their power. We are assuming that when they have adapted themselves to their surroundings and their responsibilities, that things will be about as they used to be.

Our tabulated election returns give all of the results and how it was that each candidate, be he successful or not, will have a story to tell. We have nothing but facts and figures, and they cannot lie. The nominees head our columns, the party has spoken, and so have we. Now kiss and make up!

READY TO DRILL FOR OIL

Machinery for drilling purposes has arrived and been placed in position on the farm of Lee Stephenson near Clintonville. Three test wells will be sunk for oil under the auspices of a California syndicate, with Lee Cooper, formerly of Clintonville, supervising operations.

Mr. Cooper was informed by Geologist Willette, of Kansas, that in all probability, a flow of oil would be struck at seven hundred feet in the Trenton rock, the oil-bearing rock which extends through Ohio and the Kentucky oil fields. The drills will be kept going day and night until definite results are attained.

The company of California capitalists whom Mr. Cooper represents, have oil leases and mineral rights secured on 3,500 acres of land in the Hutchison and Clintonville precincts, which they propose to prospect for oil.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE

The Bourbon County Board of Election Commissioners, composed of Will G. McClintock, M. R. Jacoby and Denis Dundon, met at the court house in this city Tuesday, and made an official canvass of the vote cast in the Democratic primary election, held last Saturday.

The official canvass revealed but few material changes in the vote, the discrepancies noted being of small note. The corrected table as prepared from the official canvass of the votes is given on page four of this issue of THE NEWS, and will be a valuable reference for the future.

FORMER PARISIAN'S HOME FOR TRAINING SCHOOL

The building at 338 Harrison avenue, Lexington, probably will be purchased for the use of the guidance school at the University of Kentucky. Armin Binder, local supervisor of the Federal Board for Vocational Training, announced Wednesday. The building is the former home of Sherman Stivers, Paris correspondent for The Herald, who died several months ago.

Slight remodeling will be necessary before the building can be used for a school, it was said. It is a two-story brick with 11 rooms, and is only about 100 yards from the campus. The amount asked for the property was not made public.

A brick building on South Limestone street, directly opposite the Good Samaritan Hospital, is also under consideration, but it is likely the Stivers home will be decided upon, Mr. Bender said.

BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS

Ground was broken yesterday by the Standard Oil Company for the erection of a handsome brick and concrete gasoline service station at the corner of Main and Eighth. The building will be of modern design in every respect and will be rushed to completion as fast as possible.

Painters and decorators are busy in all parts of the town, putting the finishing touches on business houses and residences. Among the most noticeable are the J. T. Hinton Co.'s building at Sixth and Main and the White Front Garage, both shining in new fall coatings of paint.

A number of residences and small cottages are planned for erection and completion before the winter season begins. Carpenters and contractors are busy in both city and county, and there is a general air of industry and prosperity in all lines of business.

Reconstruction of High street and the intersecting side streets begun by the Henry Bickel Co., of Louisville, some time ago, is proceeding rapidly, with the expectation of being completed before the advent of bad weather. New curbing is being placed where needed on all side streets from Thirteenth to Second streets. The interurban tracks on High street have been taken up and will be replaced in the general reconstruction scheme, with heavier rails.

A CARD OF THANKS

On behalf of Mrs. Clark, as well as in my own behalf, I desire to thank all the good friends who helped us win the nomination for Tax Commissioner and Deputy in the campaign and primary election which closed Saturday. We are more than appreciative of everything that was done in our interest, and will endeavor to show by our conduct at the office that the confidence you have placed in us will be upheld. We are grateful to many for the use of their automobiles on the day of election, and grateful for every move made for our cause.

EASE BALL NOTES

Paris fans should turn out in large numbers to see the games between Paris and Winchester, tomorrow, and with the Cynthia team on the local grounds Sunday afternoon. These teams are all in excellent condition and are playing winning ball games. Paris hopes to take off both games, and should be encouraged by large crowds at each game.

The Winchester Sun says: "The Hustlers will journey to Paris, Saturday, for a game with the Paris team. Goodman, who formerly played left field for Paris in the old Blue Grass League, is now in charge of the Paris team. Several fans will accompany the local club on their trip."

In the game at the Second street ball park Wednesday afternoon between the Methodist and Presbyterian teams of the Church League, the former came out victors by a score of 11 to 3. The game was hotly contested at all points. The batteries were: Methodists—Mastin and Owens; Presbyterians—Armstrong, Swearingen, Tadlock and Soper. The feature of the game was Mastin's effective pitching for the Methodist team.

The sporting editor of The Cynthia Democrat thus sizes up the game last Sunday at Cynthia between Paris and Cynthia:

"It was a sad day for the vociferous delegation that accompanied the Paris would-be conquerors, when the said would-was were fed nine eggs, white side up, a la King, scrambled with Hammy and a generous garnishment of gang form. Two to nothing, said the scoreboard, and waved the round rings. Paris had a much stronger team than was expected, and the outfielders, especially center, were the top notch of amateur perfection. Caparoni is a steady twirler, and while his curlers were not so baffling, when hit they didn't get the batter anywhere."

ATTENTION, CANDIDATES!

All candidates in last Saturday's primary election are required to file a post-primary expense account within thirty days after the election. The law provides a penalty of $500 for failure to file this statement, and everyone who was a candidate must do so, whether successful or not.

THE NEWS has a supply of blanks for the purpose, and will be prepared to fill them out for the candidates. Come in and get yours now!

THINK THIS OVER

Some people take an active interest in the affairs of their town. Some are passive, others are indifferent, and a few are negative.

The active ones are always on the alert to devise ways and means of improving local conditions. Their good work is to be seen on every hand. They make the town.

The passive ones are content to view the work of others without any particular desire to criticize and with no effort to assist in any way. They simply benefit from the labors of the active ones.

The indifferent element is not a particular asset to any community. So long as they get what they want the welfare of the rest of the population is of no concern to them. They extract much from others and give little in return.

The negative man is hardly as far down in the scale as the indifferent one. He keeps an eye on what is taking place, but his principal object is to criticize and obstruct. He does no particular harm because he is greatly in the minority, but he frequently does his town a disservice by uncovering defects in new projects which might otherwise slip through undetected.

Have you ever catalogued the men of this town? Do you know the class to which each one belongs? Do you realize your own status?

It is worth your while to devote a little time to the study of human nature. You will learn much of others, and sometimes more of your own characteristics. You might even find that your personal habits and customs would benefit by a change here and there.

None of us are perfect. We may never hope to be. But a calm and unbiased study of our minds and hearts might result in elevating us to a class above that which we now occupy.

In any event it would be a step in the direction of community betterment and personal advancement.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

A meeting of the stockholders of the recently organized Bourbon County Fishing Club will be held in the court house to-morrow (Saturday) night, at eight o'clock. The meeting will be for the purpose of passing on the new site for the fishing lake, and to authorize the immediate beginning of work on building same. Come and see the plans and make your suggestions.

Since James B. Wilson, engineer, discovered from tests that the land donated by Louis Rogers for the purpose was not suitable the directors of the Club have been trying to locate some other site that would fill the requirements. This, it is believed, has been found on the farm of Mrs. Thompson Tarr, about one mile from the city limits of Paris on the Georgetown road, and Mrs. Tarr has donated the use of the land for that purpose.

W. S. Kelley, who is assisting Mr. Wilson, and acting in his absence, has made a blue print of this portion of land to be submitted to Mr. Wilson. This is now on exhibition in the window of the Peoples-Deposit Bank & Trust Co. It will be known to-morrow whether or not this land will answer all the requirements.

SELLS INTEREST IN BIG 4 MOTOR CO.

Hiram S. Redmon, for some time general manager and a large stockholder in the Big Four Motor Co., at Eighth and High streets, has disposed of his interest in the enterprise to Charles P. Mann. Mr. Redmon retains his interest in the Paris Realty Company, where he is associated with Mr. Mann.

Mr. Redmon, after his retirement from the Big Four, accepted a position which was tendered him as Deputy Tax Commissioner in the office of County Tax Commissioner Mrs. Walter Clark. His father, John J. Redmon, is Chief Deputy in the office. Both are men of large experience in real estate and land value matters, which insures Mrs. Clark a most competent office force.
